

SON OF HOLSTLAW ON WITNESS STAND

Substantiates His Father's "Confession" in Lorimer Case.

IDENTIFIES DEPOSIT SLIP

Former Congressman Tawney Cleared From Any Criticism.

Washington, D. C., July 27.—Expressing his first conviction that his father, former State Senator J. W. Holstlaw, received $2,500 from a man who offered to pay him that sum to vote for Lorimer for the Senate, Herschel D. Holstlaw, of Iowa, Ill., to-day appeared before the Senate Lorimer committee and substantiated his father's famous "confession."

The son was cashier of his father's bank on June 16, 1909, the date the father claims to have received the money from Senator John Broderick, and from knowledge obtained in that position and from talking with his father, he declared to-day on the stand that deposit slips he put in evidence proved absolutely that his father received the money. The son told the story of how the Holstlaw family received the blow of the father's confession and of his father telling him that every word of it was absolutely true.

In cross-examination, Attorney Haneey, representing Senator Lorimer, declared that the deposit slips had been juggled both at the present and at the first Lorimer investigation. In explanation he absolved attorneys or others connected with the committee from his charge. The cross-examination was terminated suddenly when Mr. Haneey persisted in asking the witness, after he said he had no knowledge on the subject, about indictments brought against his father.

Chairman Dillingham suggested that other witnesses could give better testimony on the point, and assured Mr. Haneey that every witness he desired would be compelled to attend the hearings if possible.

Former Representative James A. Tawney, of Minnesota, was to-day cleared from any criticism growing out of the testimony of James Keeley that George Glavin had told him Mr. Tawney was "mixed up" in an alleged magazine lobbying matter. Chairman Dillingham read a telegraphic emphatic denial from Mr. Tawney, and said as the committee considered there was no testimony before it in any way implicating Mr. Tawney, it would not ask him to appear before it as a witness.

SEARCH FOR THREE MISSING BROTHERS

Iowa Farmer Dies at Roanoke, Leaving Estate of $75,000. Relatives Not Located.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) Roanoke, Va., July 27.—W. P. Wright, seventy-five years old, a farmer of Iowa, and a native of Botetourt county, Virginia, died here in a hospital a week ago, leaving an estate known to be valued at more than $75,000, and his first cousin, Mrs. J. W. Kennett, of this city, is making every effort to locate Wright's three brothers, John, Giles and Samuel Henry, who are younger than the dead man. Mrs. Kennett has written to the Governor of Iowa, asking his aid in finding the Wright brothers, who are thought to be in that State.

W. P. Wright left this State in 1849, and joined the rush for the West. He was successful as a trader and cattle herder, and later as a farmer. He is known to have had property in Iowa, consisting of valuable land, and live stock, valued at $50,000, while he still owned property in Minnesota, and the old family home in Botetourt county, as well as a farm of 100 acres in Franklin county, this State. His cousin, Mrs. Kennett, said he came here a year ago, and before going to the hospital was making arrangements to go to Catawba, to spend the remainder of his life at the old home place. In some way his hatch containing valuable papers is missing. A search will be instituted by the police, since it is from his will, if he had any, was in the bag.

REVERSES FORMER DECISION

Court's Action Is Based on "Rule of Reason" Recently Laid Down.

New York, July 27.—The rule of reason, laid down by the Supreme Court in the Standard Oil and tobacco trust cases, caused a reversal of judgment to-day in a suit brought by Hugo A. Thomson and others against the Union Castle Mail Steamship Company, overturning its former decision granting damages against the steamship company for violation of the Sherman anti-trust law, the United States Circuit Court said that its former action was based upon the supposition that it was immaterial whether restraint of trade was reasonable or unreasonable.

Indigestion Is Poison

Digestit Stops the Formation of Poison Gases Arising From Food Fermenting in the Stomach.

When food is taken into the stomach and is not digested it ferments—the gases from this undigested fermenting food are poisonous—these poison gases are absorbed and taken up by the blood and distributed to every part of the body, producing the many distressing symptoms of dyspepsia.

Digestit stops the dangerous poison gases by destroying the ferment which causes the decomposition of the food. Digestit is a very simple remedy. It is perfectly harmless and digests all the food via nature's way. It is sold with the understanding that you get your money back if it does not benefit you, or if you doubt, write to the Digestit Co., Jackson, Miss., for an order for a full size package without cost.

Joseph P. Sadler, a well known resident of Forest Hill and the Southside, last night announced his candidacy as State Senator from the sixteenth Legislative District to oppose Senator J. B. Watkins, of Hallsboro.

The announcement of Mr. Sadler's candidacy, while coming later than the other aspirants, indicates a rousing contest on account of his personal popularity with those who know him and his political standing with the voters of his district at large.

With one successful term of service in the Senate behind him, Mr. Sadler feels that he has an even chance against Senator Watkins, and from the many promises of support that have been sent to him from all over the district he believes he will not run behind.

The vote in the sixteenth District, formed of Chesterfield, Powhatan and the district has been fortunate in repeating its confidence and trust in most worthy men.

Senator Watkins, who has already served several terms in the Senate, must acceptably to his constituents, is expecting to sweep the county, particularly as it has appeared up to last night that he would be unopposed.

The news of Mr. Sadler's candidacy will probably act as a spur to the Senator's legal senatorial campaign in the sixteenth District, and will be the signal for the political decks to be cleared for action.

In view of the fact that but six weeks remain before the Democratic primary this contest between Senator Watkins and ex-Senator Sadler will probably be conducted with whirlwind enthusiasm and each will find speed necessary if the whole district to be covered before September 7.

VOTE IN SENATE FOR REVISION OF WOOLEN TARIFFS

La Follette's woolen bill, offered at first as an amendment to the Underwood bill, received but fourteen votes, those of the insurgent Republicans.

The Underwood bill itself was voted down with equal facility, only the Democrats and Senator Brown, of Nebraska, supporting it. Then came Senator La Follette's motion to reconsider the vote. Democrats, having secured their desired record vote on the Underwood bill, joined him in the vote to reconsider.

The Underwood bill then was brought back to life, and Senator La Follette offered the compromise bill that had been agreed upon. It was attached to the Underwood measure as a substitute for the terms of that bill, and passed by a vote of 48 to 32, all without a hitch or a fumble. Democrats voted solidly.

Important Features.

The important features of the new La Follette bill, which the Senate passed this afternoon, compared with the present law, and the Underwood House bill, are shown in the following: Raw wool, first-class: Wool on skins, present law, 57.71 per cent. ad valorem; Underwood, 20 per cent.; La Follette, 30 per cent. Wool not on skins, present law, 47.24 per cent.; Underwood, 20 per cent.; La Follette, 35 per cent.

Raw wool, second-class: Present, 44.98 per cent.; Underwood, 20 per cent.; La Follette, 10 per cent.

Top waste, etc.: Present, 38.92 per cent.; Underwood, 20 per cent.; La Follette, 25 per cent.

Shoddy, noils, etc.: Present, 41 per cent.; Underwood, 20 per cent.; La Follette, 25 per cent.

Woolen rags, mungo, etc.: Present, 25.40 per cent.; Underwood, 20 per cent.; La Follette, 25 per cent.

Combed tops: Present, 111 per cent.; Underwood, 25 per cent.; La Follette, 40 per cent.

Blankets and flannels: Present, 95.42 per cent.; Underwood, 30 per cent.; La Follette, 55 per cent.

Clothes, dress goods, fabrics and woolen cloth: Present, 95.74 per cent.; Underwood, 45 per cent.; La Follette, 55 per cent.

Carpets: Present, 50 per cent.; Underwood, 25 per cent.; La Follette, 35 per cent.

Mats and rugs: Present law, 62.95 per cent.; Underwood, 50 per cent.; La Follette, 35 per cent.

Protests Against Reduction.
Charlotte, N. C., July 27.—R. M. Miller, Jr., chairman of the tariff commission of the American Cotton Manufacturers' Association, to-day gave out the following official statement on behalf of the association, protesting against the proposed reduction in the cotton tariff schedule:

"The so-called Underwood bill on the revision of the cotton tariff schedule is a bill framed apparently solely in the interest of the importer and foreigner—wholly unfair and unjust to us—ignoring entirely the interests of the American cotton manufacturer and the American laborer, and if enacted into law will turn cotton mills of our country to soup houses."

"Based upon to-day's prices of cotton yarns, as best that I can figure, in order that the manufacturers of this country may meet the reductions in the proposed schedule and to compete with imported yarns, it will necessitate a cut somewhere from 25 to 50 per cent. in the wages of our cotton mill operatives. This means pauper wages to our American laborer to meet the pauper wages in Europe. Will American labor stand for it? The American cotton manufacturers protest against it."

LONG TIME IN AIR

Minneapolis, N. Y., July 27.—St. Croix Johnstone, the Chicago aviator, broke the American endurance records for the monoplane and biplane to-day, when he remained in the air for four hours one minute and fifty-three and three-quarters seconds, circling the aviation course of about five miles thirty-nine times. He was compelled to alight before his fifty gallons of gasoline were consumed because of engine trouble in his all-American-made Molsani monoplane.

The previous American record, made at San Francisco January 20 last, was made by Parmelee, his record being three hours thirty-nine minutes and forty-nine and one-half seconds.

Counting gasoline, oil and accessories, with his own weight, Johnstone carried about 500 pounds of weight in his flight, which was made at a rate close to sixty miles an hour and about 300 feet above the ground, in a gentle breeze.
